

The Raleigh Coin Club presents...

Grading US Coins

June 3, 2017 – 9:00am to Noon

(In conjunction with the 2017 Raleigh Money Expo™)

The seminar will begin with an interactive discussion of coin grading and then transition into a hands-on session in which students will examine a selection of US coins and assign a grade to each. Mr. Roach will then review the coins one-by-one and explain why each was graded the way it was by PCGS, NGC or ANACS. Each of the coins included in the seminar – including some exciting rarities – has been selected for its potential teaching value. The seminar will also discuss what makes a “problem” coin and the professional grading process.

Instructor The seminar will be presented by Steve Roach, the former Editor-in-Chief, and current Editor-at-Large of Coin World. Mr. Roach was formerly a grader at ANACS and Heritage Auctions, and has also been an instructor at the ANA Summer Seminar.
